Drive for New Blood Unseemly

The organization man, hero or goat of a current best-selling study of corporate civilization is a rising young businessman of impeccable manners and negligible gump-tion. How he may best be recruited is revealed in a pamphlet just issued by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Horrified by the unseemly competition between personnel men at the annual job-recruiting barbecues on college campuses, the chamber suggests that businesses adopt a code of ethics, outlawing or restricting such tactics as bidding up starting salaries, entertaining students or offering gifts or other special favors to prospective employees.

As for the student, he should be discouraged from "indiscriminate" shopping around.

Not "indiscriminate" because the only possible reason for shopping is to exercise discrimination. The chamber means "indiscriminate." Let there be no more of that ornery, bawling, unmannerly competitive drive that produced such upsetting characters as Henry Ford I.

New Sack Look Not for Males

A cartoon in the London Daily Express pictures a group of women standing around at a party dressed in old flour and gunny sacks while a pretty young thing in a tight clinging dress is surrounded by all the men.

The caption underneath, quoting one of the sacked women, says: "Men are all the same—no fashion sense whatever."

This may be the case, but for most men when fashion becomes nonsense in the manner of the new "sack look" decreed by Dior and the other French couturiers, it must give way to normal male interests.

There will be women who will like the new full-drape effect. It will cover up a multitude of figure sins. But the wise women will dress in something other than a garment fit only for an operating table.

Unless, of course, they don't care if they get "sacked" (dismissed, that is) by their menfolk.

She's No Perpetual Ingenue

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Shirley Jones is a sweet, old-fashioned girl who doesn't want to spend the rest of her life acting like a sweet, old-fashioned girl.

"I'm afraid too many people think I am nothing but a perpetual ingenue—able to play only saccharine roles," she said.

"But no human being is really that way. I want to be able to portray all the emotions of a normal girl living in the present part of the 20th century."

Shirley, a Smithton, Pa., brewer's daughter, has had only one small setback in her career. She failed to win a contest to represent the state in the "Miss America" beauty contest. But after appearing in the Pittsburgh Civic Light Opera, she won star rank in two important Hollywood productions, "Oklahoma!" and "Carousel."

But was she to spend the rest of her life in crinolines? Some meanies were unkind enough to suggest that Miss Jones, although she had a wonderful voice, was a bit on the chubby side and maybe the crinolines were a merciful favor.

Shirley's answer was to diet down to a svelte 113 pounds (she's 5 feet 5) for her latest film, "April Love," co-starring Pat Boone. Only a born churl could find fault with her figure now.

The film is a rural harness racing epic and is perhaps most notable for the fact it contains no drug addicts or juvenile delinquency. Nobody even gets beat up in it, and even the horses are honest.

The trimmed-down Jones chassis is seen to good advantage as Shirley does a chaste strip-tease while preparing to take a shower.

One of her goals is to appear in a stage show with her husband, Jack Cassidy, who is a veteran of 23 Broadway productions.

She and Cassidy, who have bought a home on the west coast live quietly and avoid the rounds of cafe society. Shirley not only looks like "the girl next door," she can cook like the mother of the girl next door, and enjoys it.

"Eventually I want to raise a family of four or five children," she said. "If I can have them and stay in show business. I will. But if it becomes too much of a task, then I'll get out."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

JOEY BISHOP was patronizing a hideaway at Las Vegas when a character suggested, "Come out to the swimming pool and let me demonstrate my new trick. I can stay under water for three hours." "Three hours!" echoed Bishop, "you'll drown." "Oh, darn," grumbled the character, "you know the trick."

To this story, Bishop adds the postscript, "Las Vegas is the only spot in the world where you'll find ladies with chinchilla wraps and diamonds fishing for nickels in a slot machine."

The World Today

By James Marlow

By ED CREAGH
For James Marlow
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—If anybody could look down upon the earth from that satellite, mightn't it appear that the United States and the Soviet Union are like an estranged couple bickering furiously, ready to start slugging if need be, but really wedded to each other?

The idea may sound fantastic since the cold war has stopped defrosting. But there are some tantalizing hints in the marathon interview granted to James Reston of the New York Times by the big man in Russia, Nikita Khrushchev.

On the face of it, Khrushchev seemed to be taking the typical chip-on-the-shoulder attitude: I want you to get together but you're doing thus-and-so and, anyhow, I can get along without you very well, and you'll hurt more than I do if the bustup is final.

Men in political life do not tend, of course, to put things quite so simply. Khrushchev did say, however:

1. Russia wants peaceful co-existence, friendly rivalry. (Many a long marriage has been based on less than that.)

2. The West is making all the trouble-keeping Germany divided, inciting Turkey against Syria, and so forth. (Just like in a domestic squabble: I'm perfect, you're the one who's at fault.)

3. Communism continues to march forward and would survive a war of missiles while capitalism wouldn't. ("Go ahead, leave, and take the television set with you; but just wait until I get through with you in the divorce court.")

It would be far-fetched to carry this comparison too far, but it does look as if Khrushchev might have been thinking about the long, cold winter ahead even while pointing the way to the door.

There is not a question in the world that could not be solved, he said, if the Russians and Americans could approach each other as equals. What he meant here, of course, is that Uncle Sam should get down off his high horse and approach with posies in hand. Uncle Sam might reply he's afraid of getting bitten by a bear if he dismounts.

Khrushchev sounded another suggestive note. He did not claim the Russians are ahead in developing all new new weapons. Rather, as Reston put it: "The Soviet Union might be ahead on one thing today, but the United States would have it tomorrow and vice versa," he (Khrushchev) said. It is all one and the same science."

It is, indeed, and there in the

Letter To The Editor

The Circleville Herald encourages letters to the editor on pertinent subjects of local interest. Only signed letters will be used.

Dear Sir:

The other evening, a puppy was hit by a speeding hit-and-run driver. It might have been a child, but it wouldn't have made any difference, evidently, to the careless driver.

To the owner of the pet dog, and to neighbors, there was a loud thump that could be heard a long way off. With the many young children playing and running, one of the first thoughts of the parents was "Was it my child?"

And, to the owners of the puppy, standing nearby, a cry from the teenage daughter, and despair from the eyes of the mother and friend, and a desperately hurt wail from the dog, who lay still, and then, thank God, moved her head.

Yet, soon after the puppy was taken to the veterinarian, two more cars sped down Watt St., regardless of the children playing on the sidewalks close to the street.

Is there no knowledge at all, to drivers of cars, there is a speed law in town, for a special purpose? Don't they ever stop to think and remember, they were once children themselves? Children who occasionally don't stop to think of dangers of cars in the midst of play?

Or, who dash, unthinkingly, into the street after a ball? It does happen, despite the warning of parents, and cautiousness of some children.

Yet, these cars, after passing the light at the intersection of Pickaway and Watt Sts., think they're on a race track or a drag strip! But, what of the children? They don't know that.

Please, please, Mr. Motorist, the lives of these children, and pets, are in your hands, while you're at the wheel of your car. Please give them a break. Take it easy. Obey the speed law. It's such a little thing to do, so that a child or pet may live!

Van Wert Escapee Recaptured After Lengthy Flight

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—A 14-year-old escapee from the Van Wert County Detention Home eluded sheriff's deputies Tuesday night by plunging into a Muskingum County creek, and then swam directly into the arms of waiting highway patrolmen.

Brought to the patrol post here was Ronald Ross, who escaped from the detention home Monday.

Patrolmen said Ross stole a car in Van Wert, but wrecked it just outside the city limits. He proceeded to Delphos where he stole another auto, patrolmen said, and drove to Crestline where he abandoned it. Ross took a bus to Newcomerstown and there stole a third car, officers related. He abandoned it in the Otsego area in northwestern Muskingum County.

Sheriff's deputies launched a manhunt after a farmer reported seeing someone matching the description of a man who stole a car in Newcomerstown.

When deputies finally spotted him near Ohio 75, Ross dived into a creek to escape. When he came up on the other side, the patrol was waiting.

True for One, False Another?

By George Sokolsky

Rev. Frank P. Beardslee of Glendale, New York, wrote to me some time ago asking some questions. One was:

"Is liberty protected by mere jury trial, or must that jury be what our Constitution calls 'impartial' to be of any use?"

The jury system is an old one in Anglo-Saxon tradition and is designed to protect an individual from arbitrary and whimsical decisions by a corrupt or cantankerous judge or other official. When a man is tried in open court, before his peers — which originally meant his equals in rank—he has a better chance for the protection of his rights under the law than if he were tried in secret by an officer of the king's court who might have been instructed to have him killed.

The word, impartial, which Rev. Beardslee emphasizes, can only have meaning if the jurors are strangers to the person and the issues of the case and do not care one way or the other whether the fellow hangs. Nowadays there is less impartiality than in the time of King John who gave Magna Carta to the English, because most people read newspapers and listen to commentators and their heads are filled with advance information which may be different from the testimony as produced in court under the rules of evidence.

Over half a century of observation, I cannot say which is more truthful, the newspaper stories or the evidence which is based on law.

This also answers Rev. Beardslee's second question, which is:

"Do you feel that deep-south

Campaign expenses for a candidate for the presidency of the Teamsters, a labor writer declares, reached an estimated $250,000. That, says the man at the next desk, is a real truckload of dough.

Artists believed human souls were guided through the underworld by Chihuahua dogs. Seems like an awful big job for such a little critter.

Trucks are outnumbered by passenger cars 4-to-1 on our highways. However, don't try to argue with drivers of same.

That world champion New Jersey hen has finally stopped production after laying 362 eggs in 365 days. Only three days off in a year!—we'd say she not only deserves a vacation but should join a union.

lily-white juries have been or now are impartial about some pleas of Negroes? If not, is it perhaps because a jury should be of a man's peers?"

On that, I should like to ask him a question, namely:

Would he expect an all-Negro jury to be impartial? The likelihood is that such a jury would consist of Democrats and Republicans, of honest men and corruptible men, of those who favor their race against all comers and those who try to make a deal for their own advancement, which is equally true among most human beings. Certainly were I a woman who has slaughtered a lover, I would not want an all-female jury; they might sympathize with the lover.

Now, let us go to question three:

"Have those Southerners who shout the loudest about jury trial in contempt cases done anything to bring such a thing throughout their own state laws? If a man does not do something where he can, can we trust his sincerity when he asks us to do it somewhere else?"

I am not sure what I believe about contempt cases. I have seen judges act like cantankerous idiots in contempt cases, particularly when a newspaperman declines to betray a confidence. After all, judges are just plain, ordinary human beings, the same as you and I and have even tempers or hard tempers, petunances, and a tough time with their wives at home or with a son who knows more than his father because he goes to college and a daughter who wants to marry a bum.

So, you come before a judge in a contempt matter and your life, liberty and pursuit of happiness depend upon how his adrenal and thyroid glands are working that particular moment. Or maybe, he has diabetes or hyper-insulinism or any of a dozen old or new diseases. Or maybe, he feels very good that morning because his daughter gave birth to his first grandson which often makes a man particularly mellow, although he in no way is directly responsible for the event.

So, the contempt is quashed or the newspaperman gets 30 days for refusing to tell who told him that so-and-so, and that is a good way to put it, got a rake-off on the newly-purchased snow-plows, the same having been proved by photograph of cancelled checks, etc.

What we really need is some new definition of contempt. I know several judges well and personally for whose judgment in most matters I must have contempt, although I criticized them. I was told by lawyers that they were extraordinarily competent men in their field, which just goes to show that a shoemaker should not try to make spaghetti. There are two more questions in this letter but my space has come to its end.

First Aid for Asthmatic

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

A simple procedure which parents easily can follow at home will do much to ease the suffering of a young child with an acute attack of asthma.

Main thing is to be on the lookout for the first signs of an impending "cold" or asthma attack in an asthmatic youngster.

These symptoms include coughing, sneezing, a sore throat, nasal discharge or nasal obstruction, mucus in the throat and a change in the voice.

Other familiar signs are watering of the eyes, a glassy staring or a pale appearance of the eyes, conjunctivitis, dark circles under the eyes or swelling of the eyelids.

Upon noticing these symptoms, put the youngster to bed immediately in a room which is as free as possible from house dust, feathers and wool. Don't allow any pets or birds in the room with the child, either.

And make sure there are no odors from cooking, tobacco smoke, burning leaves or fresh paint about the house.

Now it goes without saying that the rest of the treatment should be carried out only upon the advice of your doctor. In fact, he will have to prescribe the medications.

He probably will suggest administering antihistamine nose drops. Any of the vasoconstricting preparations recommended by your physician will be all right.

Follow this with a cough medication containing ephedrine. Or maybe your doctor will choose a similar sympathomimetic preparation.

Generally, if your doctor advises it, these medications should be given every four hours during the first 24 hours while the child is awake, and thereafter as indicated.

Your doctor might recommend insertion of an aminophylline suppository each night at bedtime. Usually this is repeated every 12 hours until the danger of an asthmatic attack is over.

Doctors at the University of Rochester School of Medicine have used this method with excellent results.

Saturday Prayers Urged by Churches

COLUMBUS (AP)—A call for a day of prayer Saturday by the Churches of Little Rock, Ark., has drawn praise from the assembly of the Ohio Council of Churches and a suggestion that Ohio churches do likewise.

The assembly at a meeting here adopted this resolution:

"We urge that the churches of Ohio be open for special prayer, Oct. 12, or a day acceptable to the local church; that a minute of silent prayer be observed in a morning worship service. We recommend that all citizens of Ohio seek the will of God as the father of us all — with special attention to peaceful and law-abiding efforts to achieve in our land equality and brotherhood."

Miss Nelle Oesterle Gives Paper on Inland Seaway

Says It Means Fourth Seacoast

"America was born of a dream, has been a land of dreams and without such dreaming should long since have perished," Miss Nelle E. Oesterle told Monday Club when she gave her paper on "The Seaway Moves Inland" last night. "The Vikings may have sighted our shores long before Columbus, but from the 15th century the minds of men have been occupied in finding a shorter route to some destination."

"The history of canals in America is a significant commentary upon American life and character," Miss Oesterle said. She described American life as "Restless, eager for speed, yearning for a change, tearing down as soon as we have built, and tossing away a new tool because another has been invented which is a split second faster."

Miss Oesterle named the early canals and then went on to tell of the new inland seaway which she said was the biggest construction job ever started on the American continent.

"It will," she said, "open the heart of North America by allowing ocean going vessels to travel 2,350 miles inland, thus giving a fourth seacoast."

Miss Oesterle predicted that Chicago could become the hub city of the seaway, thus making the city's dream come true to replace New York as a world port.

Concluding her paper Miss Oesterle said, "Yes, the seaway is a great dream about to become real and upon the realization of this dream hinges the destiny of a continent."

The Monday Club met in the Trustee's Room of Memorial Hall with Mrs. Barton Deming presiding at the business session.

Mrs. Deming appointed Mrs. Ralph Dunkle and Miss Oesterle as delegates to the Southeast District Conference of the Federated Clubs at Logan and Mrs. Bishop Given and Mrs. Carl Bennett as alternates.

Mrs. Robert Doherty was elected to membership in Monday Club.

Gov. Orval Faubus Proves To Be an Amazing Riddle

Editor's Note: Following is the third of five articles by a Pulitzer Prize-winning reporter giving his views of the development of the school integration squabble in Little Rock, Ark.

By RELMAN MORIN

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Two months ago, the name of the governor of Arkansas, Orval Eugene Faubus, was hardly known outside the state.

Today, Faubus is assured for all time of a place in American history.

He may be regarded now with admiration or contempt, as a statesman or an opportunist politician, as a man who did the right thing in the right way, or the wrong thing in the wrong way.

For Faubus stands in the center of the events that have dramatized the integration struggle. From them have arisen a hard dilemma and a painful choice for millions of people — Negro children in the schools or the possibility of federal troops in the streets, whether to try to preserve a well-worn way of life or to respect the law as it now stands.

Faubus, by precipitating the showdown between the federal government and the states, seems to have boosted his own political stock immensely in Arkansas.

His mail indicates it. So do letters to newspapers around the state, and the soundings taken by reporters.

He probably has alienated the entire Negro vote, estimated at 60,000. The moderates in Arkansas are outspokenly critical of him. And the people who don't want integration but do want law and order and prestige for the state are against him.

On balance, however, his position looks very strong today, possibly stronger than before the incredible events of September. The consensus is that if he runs for a third term, he will be elected.

Personally, Faubus is a rather engaging man. He has a mild, easy-going way about him. He comes into a conference room with a smile, his "press conference smile," as the Little Rock reporters say.

A few reporters, with calculated rudeness, sometimes try to needle Faubus. His benign mildness, in reply, is devastating. Nothing seems to ruffle him. He is a shrewd pleader.

For example, he describes U.S. Dist. Judge Ronald N. Davies of North Dakota—the man who ordered Faubus to stop interfering with the integration of Central High School — as an "imported judge." That evokes the picture, held by many Southerners, of the rich and powerful North "cramping integration down our throats."

But he overlooks the point that U.S. Dist. Judge John E. Miller—the man who first approved the Little Rock school board's plan for integration—is a native Arkansan.

He has accused the FBI of tapping his telephones, and holding high school girls incommunicado during hours of questioning. When FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover denied both charges, Faubus said Hoover used "lawyer's language," and did not, in fact, deny them at all.

He says he will not have "my people bludgeoned and bayoneted." But he will not say whether he will guarantee the safety of Negro students at Central High if federal troops leave Little Rock.

These and other aspects of the astonishing Little Rock story grew out of the train of events set in motion by Faubus the night of Sept. 2.

On that night, he ordered the Arkansas National Guard to encircle Central High School and to turn away Negro children when they came there to enroll the next day.

What were his motives?

To preserve peace and order, he says. He insists he had information that violence was brewing, time to explode when the children appeared.

What was that information? He says he can't disclose it publicly without violating a confidence and "possibly jeopardizing myself in litigation."

Woodrow Wilson Mann, mayor of Little Rock, and Virgil T. Blossom, superintendent of schools, say they never heard of any planned violence at the school.

Faubus replies that Mann is a "discredited politician," and says, "I wouldn't believe anything Virgil Blossom says."

Many people in Little Rock are convinced that Faubus will be a candidate again next year. The theory is that he hopes to postpone integration until then.

The buildup for him to take some action began last April 30. On that date, the segregationist Capitol Citizens Council circulated a pamphlet, addressed to him and saying:

"Under sovereignty of the State of Arkansas, you can, under your police powers, in order to preserve tranquility, order the two races to attend their own schools. As sovereign head of the state, you are immune to federal court order."

Judge Miller's ruling, approving the "Little Rock Plan" for integration, had been on the books eight months before that.

The Citizens Council then followed with a series of full-page advertisements in the Little Rock newspapers. They asked:

Would Negro students use the same showers with the whites?

Would they be allowed to go to school dances and dance with white girls?

If a Negro were cast for a part in a school play, and the script called for a tender love scene, would he be permitted to play the scene with a white girl?

"In view of the high rate of venereal disease among Negroes," said the advertisements, would Negroes and whites use the same toilet facilities in the schools?

Supt. Blossom replied publicly, point for point.

So the fires began to burn. Segregationist speeches in Little Rock added fuel.

Faubus called out the Guard. The federal government took legal action to force him to let the Negroes enroll. On Sept. 20, Faubus' lawyers told Judge Davies the U.S. District Court had no jurisdiction over the governor and abruptly left the courtroom.

Davies handed down the injunction against Faubus. That same night—a Friday night—Faubus recalled the guardsmen.

The following Monday saw the beginning of three fantastic days, and the events that put the name of Orval Faubus forever in the pages of history.

Tomorrow: Three days that shook the nation.

Lady Dem Says as Weather Grows Brisk, So Does Party

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP)—"As the weather grows brisker, so do Democrats," says Katie Louchheim, vice chairman and director of women's activities of the Democratic National Committee. Katie herself exemplifies this theory.

After launching the annual observance of Democratic Women's Day, in which top women of the party are honored in special programs across the nation, the peripatetic Katie has embarked on a travel schedule that will keep her on the go most of the time.

Currently she is touring the country with Chairman Paul Butler to attend a series of regional conferences with Democratic party leaders. She's sparking interest in Democratic "woman power" to insure success of the annual "Dollars for Democrats" drive. She's also encouraging the organization of "Teen Dem Clubs," as well as expansion of the Young Demo-

Guilt Confessed In Baby-Beating

CINCINNATI (AP)—A husky, 205-pound mother pleaded guilty in court here Tuesday to manslaughter in connection with the fatal beating last July 27 of her four-month-old baby.

Judge Charles E. Weber deferred passing sentence on Mrs. Minnie Owens, 27, for a probation investigation.

The baby boy, Warren, died on July 28 and an autopsy showed death was due to a fractured skull. Police said Mrs. Owens admitted beating the baby.

German Widow, 69, Convicted of Red Aid

KARLSRUHE, Germany (AP)—A 69-year-old widow has been convicted of "treasonable relations" for letting Communist agents use her boarding house near the West German capital as a spy center.

Mrs. Charlotte Wallbruch, who was arrested last May in her microphone-studded house, was sentenced to 16 months in prison by a federal court. The time already spent in prison will be deducted from her sentence.

"Mary Hawthorth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My sister Jean was recently married to a young man whose family lives in England. Bob (I'll call him) has a younger brother Roy, who is coming to this country.

Bob and Jean are looking for an apartment large enough to accommodate themselves and Roy when he arrives. They feel it would be unkind of them not to take Roy into their home. This in itself might be all right; but as Bob is with the merchant marine, he is home only eight days a month. This would mean that, for most of the time, Jean and her brother-in-law would be sharing the apartment. Jean is 21 and Roy is 20.

I have told Jean that I feel it is improper for Roy to stay with them in these circumstances. But she and her husband express the opinion that I am narrowminded and suspicious—as is anyone, they say, who would see anything wrong in this "boy" (as they call him) living with them.

I've suggested that they find an apartment or room for Roy close by; and offer him every assistance in making business and social contacts. In other words, do everything to help him make his home here—but don't start him off on the wrong foot in the situation.

S. S.

DEAR S.S.: You write from a great city. And it may be Bob's idea that Jean, being so young, should have a reliable protector on the premises, while he is off at sea. Also, Jean may welcome such company, as a sort of antidote to loneliness during Bob's absence. Possibly that's why they insist upon finding an apartment with room for Roy.

Or they may figure that Roy would be a financial help to them in the role of star boarder, after he latches on to a job here. They may estimate that his contribution

Over Ton of Toast Left in Accident

LOS ANGELES (AP)—What's the result when a delivery truck overturns and spills 2,000 loaves of bread that catch fire from spilled gasoline?

Burnt toast, more than a ton of it, which caused a mile-long traffic jam on the Santa Ana Freeway. Police said the truck upset when driver Fred Swihart slammed on the brakes to avoid a collision. He was unhurt.

'55 Ohio Ballot Wording Eyed

State Building Setup May End in 'Chaos'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Some wording on a 1955 ballot—that didn't quite tell the full story—could throw Ohio's multi-million dollar program for new state hospitals and prisons into "chaos."

That is, if the wording causes the Ohio Supreme Court to throw out the ballot.

Voters in 1955 passed a constitutional amendment authorizing a 150 million dollar bond issue for the program. Because of space limitations, only a summary of the amendment appeared on the ballot, rather than the full text of the amendment.

The amendment itself stated properly that funds from a cigarette tax would be used to help retire the bonds, but it added that if the cigarette tax did not bring in enough money, the state would make up the difference.

There was nothing in the summary stating that Ohio would make good if the cigarette tax was insufficient.

As a result, attorneys for the state sinking fund decided Tuesday that a Supreme Court test should be made of the ballot's validity before the state issues any of the bonds. Some money has been spent on the building program, but it came from the sale of 25 million dollars worth of notes issued in anticipation of the sale of bonds. About 5 1/2 of the 25 million has been spent.

If the Supreme Court rules that the ballots were not valid, "chaos" would result, says the state finance director, John Skipton.

The recommendation to make a court test of the issue came from the law firm of Bricker, Marburger, Evatt and Barton.

Attorneys said the suit could be started by having the commission secretary refuse to approve the advertising necessary for the bond

School Slates Sales Training Course for Holiday Helpers

A special series of sales training classes will be held in the Circleville High School next month for those persons who wish to work in local stores during the Christmas holiday season, according to George Hartman, superintendent of city schools.

The classes, planned for November 18, 19 and 20, have been approved by the local board of education and will be held in cooperation with the Ohio Department of Education.

Those who complete the three training classes will be given a Certificate of Completion. Local merchants have indicated that they will be favorably impressed by the presentation of such a certificate in hiring Christmas help.

Each class will last two hours, probably from 3 to 5 p. m. If there is sufficient enrollment, a second series of classes may be scheduled from 7 to 9 p. m. on the same days. Enrollment fee will be $1 per person for all three sessions.

Persons interested in enrolling for the classes should call or stop at the Chamber of Commerce office. Interested high school students may register with their home room teachers.

W. Virginia GOP To Study Ohio Plan

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Top West Virginia Republicans will study the operation of Ohio's GOP in Columbus today.

Their principal interest will be in methods used to raise funds by the Ohio Republicans.

The party leaders to make the trip to Columbus will be state Chairman John D. Holtzcliff Jr., state Finance Chairman Thomas M. Bloch, John L. Thomas and Daniel L. Louchery.

They will hear an address by Republican Sen. William M. Knowland of California and confer with Ohio State Chairman Ray Bliss while in Columbus.

The Supreme Court could then be asked in a friendly suit to order the advertising if the judges decide the ballots are in order.

Just for fun—serve

Prognosticator Shuns Flu Germs, Satellites, In Making Predictions

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP)—Flu germs, moving franchises, man-made satellites, home runs, blocked punts . . . it is enough to send a football prognosticator inside his crystal ball for protection.

Last week's efforts resulted in 36 correct choices and nine disappointments. That's an 800 average. The season figures are 96 correct, 27 wrong for .781.

This week's picks: Oklahoma over Texas: Bud Wilkinson has the reserves to bring about Oklahoma's 43rd straight victory.

Michigan State over Michigan: Should be even closer than last year's 9-0 Spartan victory.

Minnesota over Northwestern: Bobby Cox and Co. have the physical edge.

Duke over Rice: The Dukes have a great two-man backfield in halfback Wray Carlton and fullback Hal McElhaney. However, a tie wouldn't surprise.

Auburn over Kentucky: Auburn gaining stature as possibly the best in the Southeastern Conference.

Army over Notre Dame: This venerable series is being revived. Army's 34-man squad is healthy. Notre Dame has several line casualties.

Baylor over Arkansas: How tough can these get? Baylor by a point.

Navy over California: Ned Oldham to get in gear again for the Middles.

Princeton over Penn: Johnny Sapoch, Tiger quarterback, as good a back as there is in the East.

Skipping over the others: FRIDAY NIGHT George Washington over Air Force Academy, Miami over North Carolina, Southern Methodist over Missouri, Tulane over Georgia, The Citadel over Wofford.

SATURDAY EAST: Boston College over Dayton, West Virginia over Boston University, Colgate over Rutgers, Syracuse over Cornell, Dartmouth over Brown, Harvard over Ohio University, Penn State over William & Mary, Pittsburgh over Nebraska, Yale over Columbia.

MIDWEST: Iowa over Indiana, Cincinnati over Xavier, Kansas over Iowa State, Holy Cross over Marquette, Ohio State over Illinois, Oklahoma State over Tulsa, Detroit over Wichita.

SOUTH: Mississippi over Vanderbilt, Georgia Tech over Louisiana State, North Carolina State over Florida State, Maryland over Wake Forest, Mississippi State over Arkansas State, South Carolina over Furman, Tennessee over Chattanooga, Virginia Military over Davidson, Virginia Tech over Villanova, Virginia over Clemson.

SOUTHWEST: Texas A&M over Houston, Texas Christian over Alabama, North Texas State over Abilene Christian, Texas Western over Texas Tech.

FAR WEST: Oregon State over Idaho, Denver over Montana, Oregon over San Jose, Kansas State over College of Pacific, Arizona State over Hardin Simmons, Colorado over Arizona, Utah State over New Mexico, Utah over Brigham Young, Wyoming over Colorado State, Stanford over Washington State, UCLA over Washington.

Favorites won 33 per cent of the races during the Monmouth Park thoroughbred meeting. Of the 416 races, 138 favorites finished first.

Here Are More News Briefs From Midwest Grid Camps

CHICAGO (AP)—Midwest football of its own surprise stuff for the Saturday encounter.

Purdue — A knee injury has knocked a promising 218-pound guard, sophomore Emory Turner, from the lineup for the season, and there is some doubt that regulars Erich Barnes, end, and tackle Wayne Farmer will be in shape for Saturday's game with Wisconsin.

Indiana — In an attempt to get speed where it is most needed, Indiana coach Bob Hicks shifted quarterback Tom Kendrick to tailback and tailback Ted Smith to wingback. Kendrick is tabbed as a good runner and passer.

Notre Dame — The Irish report only one regular on the injury list from last Saturday's 26-0 clobbering of Indiana. He is Chuck Puntillo. The Irish went through light line scrimmage and brushed up on offensive assignments in drills readying them for Saturday's big game with Army.

Marquette — Marquette's Warriors stayed indoors and reviewed movies of their 20-6 loss to Tulane. Three minor injuries were reported but all are expected to be in shape for Saturday's game with Holy Cross. The injured were halfback Lou Casto, quarterback Ernie Safran and end Jim Stracka.

Minnesota — A shakeup on the Minnesota squad puts quarterback Bobby Cox in the ace spot on the Gopher first string. Cox was out of the limelight in Minnesota's 21-17 victory over Purdue due to the running and passing of Dick Larson. But coach Murray Warmath had Cox on the No. 1 Gopher backfield in a shift partly caused by injuries.

Iowa — A light workout in sweat-suits was all that Iowa's flu-

Stengel Picks Larsen in 7th Game -- If

NEW YORK (AP)—"Larsen's my pitcher for the seventh game," said Casey Stengel today, "and we'll be in it, too." He referred to Don Larsen who pitched a perfect game in the series against Brooklyn last year.

Was Ol' Case winkin' past the graveyard as he sent his New York Yankees into the sixth game of the World Series with Milwaukee's Braves holding a 3-2 edge in games?

Only twice since Stengel took over as Yankee manager in 1949 have the Bombers, who have played in seven World Series since, been behind going into the sixth game. In 1952 they hustled back and won the final pair from Brooklyn, but in 1955, after squaring the series at 3-all, they were beaten by the Dodgers.

What made it tough for the Yankees is the way the Braves took the boom out of Yogi Berra's bat. The squat swatter, who set a record by driving in 10 runs in a seven-game series last year, hadn't brought home a run in the first five games this year.

And that's what kept the Yankees cool since Mickey Mantle, hobbled first by shin splints and then burdened with a dead arm stemming from shoulder injuries, and Bill Skowron, out with a bad back, couldn't take their whacks.

Neither Mantle nor Skowron figures to be available for more than pinch-hit chores, an item that didn't figure to make the Braves break down and cry.

stricken Hawkeyes went through on the first day of training after squeaking past Washington State 20-13. Twenty-seven Hawks were stricken by the flu and in a weak condition for the West Coast game. The latest victim, No. 1 left guard Frank Bloomquist, was sent to the hospital.

Ashville Eyes W. Jefferson

Seek Third Win In Darby League

Ashville's Broncos will be seeking their third straight win when they travel to West Jefferson for a gridiron test Friday night.

The Broncos' only loss came at the hands of Mt. Sterling in the season opener. Since then they have posted wins over McArthur and Madison South.

In their last two wins the Ashville gridders displayed a formidable running and passing attack. Against Madison they totaled 334 yards on the ground and completed two of seven passes. Most of the yardage was picked up by halfbacks Dick Hoover and Bill Hollenback.

Quarterback Bill Boyer keeps the team moving with some nifty ball-handling and accurate play-calling. Fullback Fred Acord supplies plenty of power when needed.

THE Bronco line is anchored by Bill Neal, Bob Hoover and Ron Bartholomew who have shown consistent ability in stopping enemy runners.

The West Jefferson struggle will be the Broncos third Darby Valley League encounter. Their loss to Mt. Sterling and the win over Madison gives them a 1-1 loop record to date.

Tough Scrimmage Facing Buckeyes

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio State football coach Woody Hayes says he'll put his team through another tough practice today to sharpen them up for Saturday's encounter with Illinois.

The Bucks went through a grueling afternoon Tuesday in both offensive and defensive drills.

The Bucks spent a good part of the time working up defense against the type of aerial play used by the Illini. Hayes said he expects Illinois to use a fair sprinkling of pass plays.

Buckeye quarterback Tom Crawford tossed passes in the type of Illinois quarterback Tom Haller and they gave the OSU defense some trouble, Hayes said.

Minnesota Star Is Back of Week

CHICAGO (AP)—Minnesota's Dick Larson, a second string quarterback who has been overshadowed by talented Bobby Cox for two years, today was named back of the week by the Associated Press for his spectacular feats in leading the unbeaten Gophers to a 21-17 victory over Purdue.

The 21-year-old, 5-11, 175-pound senior came through like the understudy to the star in a storybook drama of the theater. He ran back a punt 72 yards for one touchdown, passed 16 yards to Bill Chorske for another, and ran five yards for the third.

Tigers Are Ready For Kiser Friday

Circleville's football Tigers will entertain Dayton Kiser during Parents Night Friday at the local gridiron.

Kiser will bring a record of two wins and two defeats here. Both victories have come in the Dayton school's last two games.

Dayton Wilbur Wright downed Kiser, 20-0, and Troy did the same, 69-7. Kiser defeated Dayton Stivers, 9-6, and defeated Dayton Col. White, 22-13.

The Tigers will be seeking their first win in five starts, having lost to Athens, Chillicothe, Wilmington and Hillsboro on successive Fridays.

THE CHS forces went through a brisk workout yesterday at the Fairgrounds in preparation for the coming struggle. Although their record doesn't sparkle, the Tigers appear to have plenty of determination and spirit which may help to get them on the winning side of the ledger.

The local gridders will have an added incentive Friday night with their parents sitting on the sidelines cheering them on. The contest will mark the first of five straight home games.

Fortunately the Tigers have come up with no serious injuries to date. Second string quarterback-halfback Tom Greeno was back in uniform this week after missing the last two games due to a painful knee and leg injury. If the holds up Greeno probably will see action against Kiser.

Barring last minute changes Coach Tom Bennett's starting lineup is expected to remain about the same as last week.

Seaburn Tops Lamb Contest

Williamsport Man Wins Pen-of-Five

Interest and enthusiasm ran high for the first annual Pickaway County Sheep Day. This was the first attempt for such an event in our county.

The sheep day program was held at the Pickaway Livestock Yards, along with the regular lamb pool day.

The program included competition for Pickaway County sheepmen in single lamb classes, pen-of-five and pen-of-ten.

Ralph Grimshaw, Extension Sheep Specialist at Ohio State University, served as official judge. The results of the three classes were:

Single lamb championship was won by Jay Seaburn, Williamsport. The winning lamb was a Shropshire, Seaburn farms 110 acres, and has 20 purebred Shropshire ewes. They were mated to a purebred Shropshire ram.

The other placings in the single lamb class were 2. Joe Rohr, Route 1, Groveport; 3. Robert Bower, Route 1, Kingston; 4. Marvin Marshall, Route 1, Stoutsville; 5. James Kuhlwein, Route 1, Groveport.

THE PEN-OF-FIVE competition also was won by Jay Seaburn with lambs of similar breeding as the champion single lamb. E. A. Payne and Charles McCray, Madison Township, placed second. Third was Carle Brothers, Route 2, Circleville; 4. Harold Hoffman, Route 2, Circleville; and 5. J. Wright Noecker, Walnut Township.

The pen-of-ten was won by James Kuhlwein, Route 1, Groveport; 2. Joe Rohr, Route 1, Groveport; 3. Harold Huffman, Route 2, Circleville; 4. Joe Peters, Ashville; 5. J. Wright Noecker, Route 1, Ashville.

Grimshaw also commented on the desirable type carcasses in demand by packers and the type of market lambs that bring the highest price.

The next event planned by the Pickaway County Sheep Committee will be a roast lamb dinner to be held in January.

The 1958 annual Pickaway County Sheep Day will be held in early August.

4-H Club Activities

By CLARENCE J. CUNNINGHAM
Associate County Agent

Reserve Champion Shorthorn steer at the Producers Junior Livestock Show was owned and shown by Carol Teegardin, Route 1, Ashville. Miss Teegardin's animal had previously placed first in the lightweight division of the show. Carol is a member of the Madison Livewires 4-H Club.

Harvey Rutherford, Jr., Route 2, Williamsport received a third place rating on his medium weight Angus steer. Harvey is a member of the Deercreek Livestock.

Becky and Julia Kinsell, Route 2, Ashville, also represented Pickaway County in this annual Junior Livestock Show and Sale. Julia showed her heavyweight Hereford to 15th place and her heavyweight Angus to 16th place. Becky received 18th and 21st on her heavyweight and lightweight Angus calves. Becky and Julia are members of the Madison Livewires 4-H club.

The annual barbecue and achievement meeting is planned for Saturday night, October 26, at the Fairgrounds Coliseum. All club members, parents, advisors, and donors should make plans to attend this event.

Beef and lamb are being barbecued for this meeting by the meats lab personnel at Ohio State University.

Any 4-H club member interested in obtaining a Shorthorn heifer calf may be interested in a contest being sponsored by the Ohio Association of the Annual Feeder Calf Sale in Columbus.

What do you need to do? Just obtain an entry blank from the Agricultural Extension Office, write a 50-word report on why you would like to fit and show a Shorthorn heifer calf, and mail in to the required place by October 16. The winner must be present at the sale on October 26 to receive the calf.

Let's All Go Shopping!

By MRS. LEORA SAYRE
Home Economics Agent
Extension Service

Good eating requires more than just food in the financial account!

Do you realize that the food portion of the household expenses is often misleading? Usually one puts into it only the basic expenses—the amounts spent for groceries and meats. However, there usually are and can be several "hidden" costs!

If you drive to the store, it may cost you as much as 10 cents a mile for the necessary transportation. If you go far or frequently, food transportation costs add up fast. If you walk, the cost is largely in terms of time.

You may have your groceries delivered. If so, the store must cover the cost of running a delivery route. There will either be a delivery charge or the groceries will be priced to cover this added cost.

There is also the investment in range, refrigerator, dishwasher, freezer, cooking utensils and appliances, such as toaster and mixer. The cost of this equipment, plus repairs, replacements and fuel, increase the expense of feeding your family.

Another frequently "hidden" major investment in food costs is time and energy. Knowing what foods are on the market, whether they can be purchased fresh, semi-prepared, or ready to eat, and the relative costs of these foods, help you plan your own food purchasing wisely. Both time and money available are factors in your decision.

SO, BEFORE we shop, let's all think, in a concentrated and appreciative way, of all that might be in the background of getting that food item into the home food preparation center.

Do you realize that today the average pound of meat travels 1,000 miles from the "open range" to the kitchen range? Two-thirds of all meat is produced west of the Mississippi River, with two-thirds of all meat consumed east of that river.

There is a lot of history involved in getting that hand of bananas with 4 to 9 fingers, into the grocery cart.

Planning for shopping and using the plan, could be an answer to the three - meal - a - day - battle - fatigue that consistently annoys some homemakers.

Homemakers who plan their shopping trips and really shop, find it saves them time and energy as well as helping them obtain maximum satisfaction from the food dollar. Planning the shopping list according to the arrangement of the local store and buying accordingly saves many a step. The day and the time of shopping can be important if traffic jams are a worry.

A good shopping routine will help eliminate such problems as bruised fruits or vegetables, thawed frozen foods, damaged pastries, broken eggs and leaky meat packages.

If one really shops, they will be familiar with labels, grades, and inspection stamps. Real shopping practices will prevent getting a bargain which proves not to be a bargain.

If cost is a major factor, compare the cost of fresh, canned and frozen foods. Also, compare the cost of homemade, partially prepared and ready-to-serve foods.

STUDIES HAVE shown that the

Corn Picker Is Deadly Machine

Farmers, beware, you have a dangerous monster in your field—the corn picker.

The corn picker has been developed into a wonderful piece of equipment for labor saving and speed of operation for harvesting corn, according to George Hamrick, Pickaway County agent.

When it is misused, the corn picker is deadly. This machine will clog at times in spite of our attempts at prevention. The farmer's first concern should be the safety of the operator, Hamrick says.

All guards and shields should be kept in place at all times. Always stop the tractor and shut off the power-take-off before dis-mounting, oiling, adjusting and unlogging. The average snapping rolls will pull a 12-foot stick through in about one second.

THIS MEANS that the corn picker operator who uses a stick or cornstalk to unclog his picker with the power on is flirting with disaster. Hamrick reports never use a stick or cornstalk or ear of corn to punch around clogged rolls.

The operator should always ride on the tractor seat, and permit no one else to ride the picker. Never allow children to ride the tractor or picker, Hamrick warned.

Close-fitting clothing should be worn around equipment with moving parts, a glove with two thumbs can be really dangerous around moving parts on machinery, he said.

When farmers get into the harvest season they try to get it all done in one day. They should be particularly cautious when working long hours. Our reactions slow down as we become tired. Be sure to train any new operator who may be using your picker this fall, Hamrick concluded.
